DETAILED ACTION

Election

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species from the following mutually exclusive species:

- (A) The release profile of claim 1;
- (B) The release profile of claim 2;
- (C) The release profile of claim 3;
- (D) The release profile of claim 5;
- (E) The release profile of claim 6;
- (F) The release profile of claim 8;
- (G) The release profile of claim 9; and
- (H) The release profile of claim 10.

Applicant is required to elect a single release profile for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The common technical feature of the above species is a modified release pharmaceutical composition comprising at least one form of tramadol wherein the composition, when orally administered to a patient, induces a statistically significant lower mean fluctuation index in the plasma than an immediate release composition of at least one form of tramadol while maintaining bioavailability substantially equivalent to that of the immediate release composition. This element cannot be a special technical feature under PCT Rule 13.2 because it is not novel. US 6159501 discloses a modified release pharmaceutical composition comprising an opioid wherein the composition, when orally administered to a patient, induces a statistically significant lower mean fluctuation index in the plasma than an immediate release composition of the opioid while maintaining bioavailability substantially equivalent to that of the immediate release composition (see abstract; col 3, line 16 to col 4, line 6; col 52, lines 33-48). Tramadol is a preferred opioid (see claim 81).

Since Applicant's inventions do not contribute a special technical feature when viewed over the prior art they do not have a single general inventive concept and so lack unity of invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should Applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Inventorship Notice

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
